Raise Mentoring Program

Over the last few weeks, students and mentors have participated in a number of activities in the Raise Mentoring Program to learn about the importance of developing positive connections with each other. During the first official session, students worked closely with their assigned mentors to develop their own personal goals for what they would like to achieve throughout the next 6 months. This involved having discussions with said mentors about their needs and wants and how they would like to approach these goals.

Overall, it has been a positive start to the program, and we cannot wait to see what these students achieve!

We would like to thank the Bankstown Hospital School for their ongoing support of the Raise Mentoring Program at Picnic Point High School, which has ensured our students are able to participate in this important program.
